6 ???&#0183; Solar panels on rooftops islandwide could become a "virtual power plant" for Guam, producing as much as 20 megawatts of energy for the Guam Power Authority, according to a proposal by lawmakers.

The great solar energy debate continues to rage. The prevailing opinion is that while it's ok in theory to attach solar energy panels to our roof, the upfront financial costs render it impossible for the average family. At first glance and without bothering to research the matter further, there seems to be more than a ring of truth to it.

This blatant disregard for customer concerns and the apparent lack of effort to resolve the issue is unacceptable. It seems like they are knowingly charging us for non-producing solar panels, which they have acknowledged. Our solar panels have not been producing since April 2022, 0 killawatts from then to now.
