Saint Barthélemy (Saint Bart for short or Saint Barths as it is known in French) is a tiny French island in the Leeward Islands. Christopher Columbus discovered the island in 1492, naming it for his brother Bartolomeo. It was first settled by French colonists in 1648 and in 1763 French mariners established a permanent settlement.

We want solar panels on as many new homes as possible." It is worth noting that no plans have been announced to weaken the Future Homes Standard in its current form. What the industry criticised, and what the ministry did not acknowledge, is the absence of an obligation for new builds to include solar systems.

Being explored in partnership with Solar for Schools, which supports installing solar panels on school roofs, the funding will help the organisation raise additional funding to enable around £10 million worth of solar projects to be installed on schools that would otherwise not be eligible for solar projects.
