

What is the main source of energy in Tuvalu?

The primary energy consumption represents the upstream supply. The only national energy source is biomass (18% of total consumption). Photovoltaic and thermal solar contribute for less than 1%. The balance of supply is oil (Fig. 2). Tuvalu is close to being a totally oil dependent economy.

Should energy data be consolidated in Tuvalu?

One of the study's recommendations is the consolidation of all energy data, to build an energy balance and to include it in the annual economy report. Since Tuvalu's electricity generation efficiency is low, around 35%, the significance of the electricity sector is higher in the primary energy balance than in final end-use consumption.

Is Tuvalu oil dependent?

Tuvalu is close to being a totally oil dependent economy. In 2004 the total energy consumption was 4.6 ktoe, oil accounting for 3.8 ktoe (82%) and biomass for 0.8 ktoe (almost 18% of the total primary energy consumption). This includes diesel charged by the two vessels (Nivaga II and Manu Folau) in Suva, Fiji.

How much energy is wasted in Tuvalu?

Only 3,232 toe (71%) of primary energy supply reached an end-use category. 1,341 toe (29% of primary energy supply) was wasted, mainly due to low electricity generation efficiency. Tuvalu's electricity consumption is increasing rapidly at a 3.8% yearly average rate over the last ten years. It reached 4,121 MWh in 2004.

How can Tuvalu protect its energy supply?

Protect Tuvalu's energy supply from the whims of the international market. Using specific bioenergy technologies such as biogas digestion can help reduce pollution, run-off and contamination from organic waste, including human and animal sewage, therefore preventing land, sea, and groundwater contamination.

What is the energy sector development project for Tuvalu?

The objective of the Energy Sector Development Project for Tuvalu is to enhance Tuvalu's energy security by reducing its dependence on imported fuel for power generation.
